

Labcold Flake Ice Makers

LITV-IQ50/IQ85C

Labcold Flake Ice Makers produce crushed ice ideal for filling packs and moulding to fit any item or object. The ice produced is both hygienic and clear so ideal for medical and laboratory applications.

Robustly constructed from stainless steel with well-insulated plastic collection bins and a lime scale reducing spray system.

Labcold Ice Makers require both a water and electricity supply and a floor level drain.
